

Phase One Releases Capture One 5.1.2 -- Enhances Leaf support and Compatibility with Expression Media 2

Offers Free Copy of Capture One to registered owners of Expression Media, iView Media and MediaPro

Offers Free Copy of Expression Media 2 to registered owners of Capture One

COPENHAGEN, June 10, 2010 -- With the recent acquisition of Microsoft's Expression Media software for digital asset management, Phase One has updated its Capture One raw converter and image editor to improve the applications' compatibility, allowing owners of the two applications to:

- Easily add a selection of images from Capture One to an Expression Media catalog.
- Transfer rating and color tags between applications by drag and dropping images.
- Preview images in Expression Media using Capture One's default rendering.
- Create a Capture One album with images found by searching in Expression Media.

Capture One 5.1.2 Enhances Leaf Support and Adds New Camera Support:

This version updates firmware for Leaf digital backs and adds QuickLook and WIC support for Leaf MOS files.

Capture One 5.1.2 also adds camera file support for Leaf Aptus-II 10R and Olympus E-PL1 as well as camera tethered support for Leaf Aptus-II 10R.

For a detailed specification list and system requirements please see the release notes here: <http://www.phaseone.com/en/Downloads/CaptureOne.aspx>.
